Attention: Stuart Bachelor
General Manager

Dear Stuart,

TQCSI QHSE Code

I refer to recent correspondence regarding TQCS International Pty Ltd's Quality, Health Safety and Environment Code: 2013 (QHSE Code).

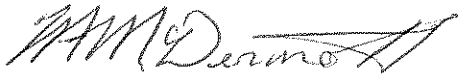

The Department of Transport, Planning and Infrastructure (the Department) acknowledges your advice that the QHSE Code has been certified as meeting many of the core requirements of AS/NZS ISO 9001:2008 (Quality Management), AS/NZS ISO 14001:2004 (Environment Management) and AS/NZS 4801:2001 (Work Health Safety).

The Department further acknowledges that, in May 2013, The Business Principle Pty Ltd conducted an independent review of the QHSE Code and concluded that it exceeds the Department's Category 3 and Category 4 prequalification requirements (including General Building Contractor (GBC), Residential Building Contractor (RBC) and Trade Contractor).

The Department hereby confirms that, subject to review of individual submissions on a case by case basis as the Department deems necessary, companies that satisfy the requirements of the QHSE Code will be eligible to attain the Department's Quality Assurance Criteria for Pre-Qualification as a General Building Contractor, Residential Building Contractor and Trade/Sub-Contractor to the Registration Category 3 and Category 4 upon presentation of the relevant certificate.

Many thanks for your continuing assistance in this matter. The Department is appreciative of TQCSI's efforts to assist smaller sized businesses to implement a manageable system to assist in quality, safety and environmental control.

Yours sincerely,
